

TOTAL SOLUTION FOR YOUR ALUMINIUM ALLOY NEEDS

SL Metals Group, a publicly listed leading aluminium distributor in Asia, boasts 40 years of industry expertise. With operations and warehouses in Singapore (HQ), China, Malaysia, and Taiwan, we are a globally trusted supplier. Being AS 9100 certified, we are dedicated to delivering high-quality products and innovative solutions to industries worldwide, such as aerospace, space, semiconductor, marine, oil and gas, and beyond. Our extensive product range, commitment to quality, and robust global supply chain empower businesses to succeed in a dynamic and evolving marketplace.

Unparalleled Stockholding

Our extensive inventory supports high-volume demands and includes a wide range of aerospace-grade aluminium plates and bars in 2, 6, and 7 series. Compliant with stringent AMS standards, our products deliver exceptional performance and reliability, positioning us as a trusted supplier for industries with rigorous quality and technical requirements.

Relationship with Reputable Principal Brands

We have built long-term relationships with reputable principal brands worldwide, creating a global network that ensures consistent quality and reliability. Our suppliers offer premium aluminium products and technical support, assisting with alloy selection and challenges. This collaboration enables tailored solutions and a reliable supply chain to meet our clients' evolving needs. Key principal brands include:

- AMAG
- Arconic
- Constellium
- Alro
- Novelis
- Kaiser

Precision Cutting Capabilities

Our cutting capabilities feature advanced CNC circular saws and bandsaws, designed to handle various thicknesses and product types. With precise tolerances, fast cutting speeds, and high capacity, our machinery ensures efficient processing and consistent quality, enabling us to meet diverse customer requirements with rapid turnaround times for different applications.

Quality

We ensure product quality with mill test certificates for all materials and full traceability through AS9100 certification. Our commitment to transparency and reliability positions us as a trusted supplier for critical and high-performance applications.

Prompt Delivery

We understand the critical timelines and challenges of aerospace production, including cyclical demands and supply chain disruptions. With a strong focus on inventory management, we maintain optimal stock levels and ensure consistent material availability, supporting seamless operations and on-time delivery to meet production requirements.

Sustainability & Innovation

We are exploring sustainable practices by sourcing circular materials and advanced alloys that align with the evolving needs of modern aerospace applications. In line with global aviation sustainability goals, we are committed to innovation and preparing for future developments that align with sustainability efforts in the industry.
